OWEN BROTHERS

Washington, April 21.—For Ohio Valley and Tennessee. Fair weather, followed by west portion by partly cloudy weather and local rains; southerly winds, slightly warmer in east portion; nearly stationary temperature in west portion; generally lower barometer.

A little 50 pair of suspenders not over a foot and a half long. Try them one by one, pull them, they'll stand it, stretch them, try them all, if you like, and when you have found the pair that touches your feelings most happily, pay your nickel and take them home and tell of the others you saw hanging next, a 10c size for your brother, or the 20 centers, longer by a foot. The weighty ones at 25c or the more dressy with silk ends at the same, and some 30c and 35c. Very easy to get, are suspenders. No easier than a thousand other things we keep alongside.

Take Linen Collars and Cuffs. Where else but here do you find nineteen styles to pick from without going back behind this year's productions?

The odd notion is abroad that fine neckwear and brass fixtures are related. They are not. Our coarsest awkward cases and fixtures "old enough to vote," are hung and strewn full up with the daintiest silk and satin scarfs, puffs, strings, Windsors, "dude's" bows, &c., to be got outside the large eastern cities. Then there's this in your favor, we don't ask brass-fixture prices.

Turn the rascals out. You're thick suits must go, no matter if they have kept you warm through a long winter and ward off disease, they're too heavy and the're too seedy.

Look through the custom tailoring department; we're ready for you no matter what your wants may be. Sack suits to measure $20, trousers $12 for $7.50, overcoats a third less than common going prices, and so much wider scope for choice.

To-day's newest. Boy's knee pant suits for ages 4 to 12 years, in Globe Mills Castles. Plaided blouse suits, entirely different from anything before seen here, and so different from what are to be found among houses of less note.

Men's separate pants at separate prices. You can't afford to buy without first going through and testing the thousand and one kinds we have made expressly for looks and lasting qualities.

Destructive Fires.

NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—A fire yesterday morning destroyed the buildings 121 to 137 Decatur Street and No. 6 Toulouse Street. The buildings were of brick four-stories high. AKRON, Ohio, April 22.—The military store of Miss V. A. Dannehl, who was well known in the newspapers a month ago by an encounter with a burglar in New York, was damaged $1,000 by fire Monday night.

THE GLENDALE MYSTERY.
CINCINNATI, April 22.—The Glendale mystery is growing in interest. The identity of the three highwaymen, one of whom was killed by Webb Charles, Sunday morning, has not yet been established. Detectives are on the trail and new developments are looked for every hour. Some of the citizens of this village are inclined to the belief that the story is a hoax, but Mr. Charles Bears has an excellent reputation, and there is no doubt about the truthfulness of his story. The citizens of Glendale are very much excited over the affair.

Diamonds Boldly Held in Jail.
NEW YORK, April 22.—Builden Budden-sack and Frances, and Thomas W. Dally and Robert V. Mackay, the building inspectors, were yesterday placed at the bar of the General Sessions Court to plead to a charge of manslaughter in causing the death of Louis Walter. All four pleaded not guilty, and counsel asked that they be admitted to bail in a nominal sum. The District Attorney insisted that bail to the amount of $2,000 each should be fixed and the Judge withheld his decision.

THE WAR SIGNS.

The Opinion That War is Inevitable

Increased by Today's Dispatches from London.

Demand Made for the Pardon of Jeff Davis.

General Grant and Wife Go Out Driving.

LONDON, April 22.—That the Government expects war seems to be fairly inferred from: first, its last night's announcement of the probable evacuation of the Sudan; second, the repeated references made by Mr. Gladstone last evening, to the necessity of holding troops there in readiness for service wherever they may be wanted; third, the demand for 11,000,000 pounds, a demand never before made except for war. Fourth, it may have excited popular feeling by so readily giving out Lumsden's belligerent despatch. Entire London morning press spare no words in giving the lie to Komaroff upon Lumsden's testimony. Troops are swarming to all barracks throughout united kingdom in response to Government call for reserves. War Office in London is besieged by military officers asking for employment. It has been decided to divide the Portsmouth fleet up into the channel flying and reserve squadrons. Fresh orders have been received to increase the number of workmen at Portsmouth.

General Grant Improving.
NEW YORK, April 22.—Dr. Douglas slept at the Grant mansion last night, and this morning said there were no ill effects from the General's exercises yesterday, unless it was the fatigue that prevented profound sleep during the early part of the night. The General's pains are abated today, but the trouble at the base of the tongue is at all times the seat of greater or less pain to the patient. Dr. Douglas is referring to the Brazilian cancer cure said it had never been used, because there was no data at hand of its efficacy, and General Grant was not a patient to experiment on. The Doctor remarked that the General was, on the whole, improved today, though he was yet a very sick man.

New York, April 22.—At noon General Grant and wife went to drive in an open carriage. Salutes by bystanders were returned by the General with a smile and true military salute.

France Bristling Against England.
PARIS, April 22.—The Journal Des Debats says, this morning, in regard to Gladstone's statement avowing responsibility for the suppression of the "Bosphore Egyptian," that France must now look to England for redress. We will maintain our rights and do not lack ample means to do so. It is also stated here that the French fleet has been got in readiness for the purpose of making naval demonstration at Alexandria to enforce compliance with the demand made by France for the rehabilitation of the suppressed newspaper.

The Spanish Treaty.
HAVANA, April 16.—The Diario De La Marina, in a leading article on the treaty between Spain and the United States, says it was negotiated with a view to immediate ratification. It failed of ratification by the United States on the 4th of March, and now we hear that Mr. Foster will return to Madrid to open new negotiations. Believing that we express the general feeling, we counsel the Government not only to make no further concession in treaty with United States but to withdraw those already granted. At the meeting of the Workingmen's Union, held Sunday last, the speakers generally declared the treaty between Spain and United States, with various amendments to it allowed by Spain, would not prove beneficial to Cuba. The order for an official examination of land imported from United States has been revoked.

British Consols.
LONDON, April 22.—Consols closed last night at 95½; opened this morning at 95, but in a few minutes rose to 95½; have just fallen again to 95. Russian securities 83½. Stocks, home and foreign funds are weak, with American securities a notable exception to the rule, being very steady.

Lesbos, April 22.—12:30 p. m.—Consols 95½; 1:30 p. m., consols 95½. Russian securities 84.

LONDON, April 22.—1:45 p. m.—Consols 95½; Russian securities 84½. Two o'clock p. m., consols 95; 2:30 p. m., consols 95 11-16.

Pardon for Jeff Davis Demanded.
ST. LOUIS, April 22.—A dispatch from New Orleans says: A. G. Horn, editor of the Meridian Mercury, a Democratic paper in Mississippi, has forwarded to President Cleveland a very vigorous petition demanding the pardon of Jeff Davis, to save the South from a great deal of mortification and distress, and on account of Davis' military and civil services rendered to the country now at peace. Horn did not consult Davis about the petition.

A desperate struggle was made to capture his body and twenty Guatemalans were killed by his body-guard before the attempt was given up.

Barrios' son fell while defending his father's body. There is a common belief in Guatemala that the killing of Barrios was really a deliberate assassination brought about by the machinations of the United States.

Barrios, who is credited with fully as unscrupulous an ambition as that of the dead chieftain.

Object to Physical Examination.
TROY, N. Y., April 22.—There is a difference of opinion between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company. The latter has instituted a series of physical examinations, alleged tests of color blindness, etc., to which the engineers refuse to submit. The supposed ground of their action, is a fear that the examination will be instrumental in giving excuse for the discharge of the men who are not physically fit for service.

The officers of the company appear undecided as to their course.

GENERAL LAWTON

Declines the Russian Mission After Being Declared Eligible by the Attorney General. The Appointment of James M. Morgan as Consul General at Melbourne—Presidential Appointments.

CHICAGO, April 22.—A special to the Tribune from Savannah, Ga., says: "General Lawton has sent a dispatch to Washington declining the Russian mission, to which he has been decided eligible by the Attorney General. General Lawton's action is based on a desire to relieve the administration of an embarrassment which might result from the inevitable fight which would occur over his confirmation by the Senate. It can be stated on the highest authority that until this dispatch was received President Cleveland expected that General Lawton would start for Russia within a few days, and that the declaration of the office is not based on suggestion from any official or other person. General John B. Gordon, of Georgia, will, it is said, now be tendered the position.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 22.—A Times reporter had an interview yesterday with General Lawton, in reference to his appointment as Minister to Russia. General Lawton stated that he had written to the President, declining the position, and that he would further consideration of his (Lawton's) claims to the Russian mission. This was not a declaration, but left it optional with the President to appoint him or not, as he deemed best.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The Sun's Washington special says that Mr. James M. Morgan, whose appointment as Consul General at Melbourne, has caused a good deal of comment, obtained the place through the personal solicitation of Mr. F. W. Dawson, editor of the Charleston News and Courier, and member of the National Democratic Committee.

Mr. Dawson, the correspondent says, called on the President Friday and solicited the appointment of Mr. Morgan, who is his brother-in-law. Mr. Morgan is a son of the late Judge Morgan, of Louisiana, and brother of the ex-Minister to Mexico. He served in the Confederate army, and then joined the Egyptian army. The facts now learned, that he worked for Mr. Blaine in the late campaign, and that he was a pamphlet, giving reasons why Mr. Cleveland should not be elected, has raised a dilemma.

Riot at a Prize Fight.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 22.—A desperate prize fight took place last evening at Parsons, near this city. Two miners named Ernest Williams and Patrick Lawlor met in a twenty-four foot ring, to settle a long standing feud. Seconds were chosen, and 400 persons witnessed the melee. In the first round the men fought like bull dogs. It becoming evident, however, that Williams was getting the best of the fight, Lawlor's friends broke into the ring, and a general riot ensued.

The respective friends of the principals now took up the fight, and the scene was a most exciting one, clubs, blisles, iron bars and stones being used. Pistols were also fired. Williams' friends were injured and he was left in the hospital. Two men, named John Lee and Patrick McGrath, sustained fatal injuries. Warrants were issued this morning for the arrest of forty of the participants. There is great excitement in the vicinity.

THE WAR CLOUD.

Sir Peter Lumsden's Reply States That General Komaroff's Attack Was Well Planned.

The indications are that war is almost certain between Russia and England—Bishop Nutt's Pastoral Letter.

WAR ALMOST CERTAIN.
LONDON, April 22.—Sir Peter Lumsden's reply to the latest Government inquiries has just been published. It denies, paragraph by paragraph, General Komaroff's assertions concerning the Penjdeh affair, and proves that the latter's attack upon the Afghans was well planned and deliberate. This, together with the large credit, which has been asked for by Mr. Gladstone, is looked upon as an absolute indication that war is certain between England and Russia.

In the House of Commons the Government announced that the vote of credit, of which previous notice had been given, and which in the present circumstances they deemed necessary would amount to £11,000,000. Four and a half million pounds would be required to defray the expenses of the Sudan campaign and six and a half million pounds would be asked for other naval and military preparations.

Mr. Gladstone, after announcing in the House of Commons yesterday, the receipt of Sir Peter Lumsden's detailed contradiction of General Komaroff's version of the Penjdeh incident, requested that debate be had upon the war credit on Monday next, and that consideration of the budget be postponed until the 30th inst. "The Government," he said, "rely upon the patriotism of the House, but our instructions have been and are now based upon a strong desire that every pacific means should be used to obtain a just and honorable settlement of whatever controversies England might be involved in."

Lord Granville, after informing the House of Lords that the position of affairs justified the Government in putting the army and navy and auxiliary forces in condition for immediate service, if required, added that England desired to remain on the most friendly terms with all foreign countries and that the increase in the strength of the army and navy would not in the least diminish the desire of the Government for a peaceful and honorable settlement of the dispute with Russia.

The Earl of Morely, Under Secretary of War, stated in the Lords last evening that the entire first-class of the army reserves had been notified that they are liable to be summoned for service at short notice. The Government did not at present intend to summon the militia reserves.

After hearing the statements of the Ministers, the House of Lords passed the vote of credit without a division. The House of Commons, after the receipt of the vote of credit, passed the vote of credit without a division.

The press, by tacit consent, generally refrain from stringent criticism upon the facts reported by Sir Peter Lumsden regarding the Penjdeh incident, evidently desiring to leave the Government untrammelled in its action.

The Standard (Conservative) says that the Government's request for a vote of credit will not meet any opposition. The Nation in this article ignores the question who asks the vote and will think only of the emergency making the credit necessary. They are satisfied that the money is required and they will grant it freely.

In explaining the proportion of the war credit which was to be used for the operations in the Sudan, Mr. Gladstone gave the Commons to understand that the rebellion against the Mahdi was the cause of the war, and that the Government expected to have but little occasion for further active operations in that region. The presence of an adequate military force at Berber would probably be sufficient to preserve British interests for the present.

In defiance of the treaties of Paris and Berlin, Russia has fortified Batoum and Constantinople, and has sent large numbers of troops to the Caucasus. She has also established strong corps of guards at the strategic points of the Tiflis-Port Railway, connecting the Black and Caspian seas.

Black Nuts, April 22.—The pastoral of Bishop Nutt, of Meath, issued on Saturday, causes widespread comment and is regarded as a formal warning to Rome of what Irish prelates expect and will demand.

The Bishop refers in an independent tone to the unfortunate effects of the apparent clash of the obligations of the people to ward their country and toward the Holy See. He holds out the prospect of the Bishops at Rome will remove all cause of conflict by determining clearly what Rome expects. The present state of public feeling may at any time cause dangerous misunderstanding as to the relations between the Irish Nation and the Roman See.

It is easy, he significantly says, to persuade a jealous and prejudiced race that the Pope has acted on credulous and one-sided information regarding a struggle to secure social and political amelioration. Any fatal misconception of the Pope's objects might drive Ireland into an attitude of dogged and sullen disobedience. God only knows what consequences might then follow. "It is a very awful fact," the Bishop proceeds, "that great Catholic nations like France, England and Scotland, are practically apostate from the faith. The fact is, that they surround with salutary as well as with unpleasant warnings. I do not believe that the Irish Nation will ever follow their fatal example, but it would be criminal rashness to expose it to danger. I can find no divine promise guaranteeing to any nation that its faith will in all circumstances be unassailable; nor can I see that there is a special promise that the great Irish Nation will be immune from the same."

VIENNA, April 22.—It is learned from Warsaw that the entire force of the military reserve of Russian-Poland has been mobilized. The decree of mobilization extends to all the Southwestern Provinces of Russia.

The accused giving bonds in the sum of $2,500 each. The wounded man was unable to appear, but it is thought he will eventually recover.

MONONGAHELA VALLEY STRIKE.

The Banks Again Filling Up and the Indians are That the Strike will Continue With Increased Vigor.

PITTSBURGH, April 22.—The ranks of the striking miners are fast filling up again and the indications now are that instead of the strike being broken it will continue with increased vigor. This is the result of the final effort of the visiting committees to induce those who have secured the advance to cease work until all should stand on an equal footing. The success of the committee efforts was a surprise to the miners themselves.

At the close of the conference of the strike committee yesterday morning, President Castello said that with the exception of the Reid pits all the mines on the Pan-Handle had shut down that morning. The Charters, Banksville and Tom's Run districts were all out and the suspension was general. President Castello received a letter that the men in the Salliesville region and those of the Pittsburgh district move together, so as to make the strike general in both localities.

Whole Family Poisoned by Eating Canned Whortleberries.
NORTHUP, Ohio, April 22.—Soon after supper Monday night all the family of James Hamilton, and two young lady visitors, were seized with ever symptom of poisoning. Every effort was made to save the lives of all, but to yesterday morning three had died. The dead are Elizabeth Hamilton, Amanda Hamilton, and Kate Simpson, all adults. A man-servant was the only person about the house not sick, and he was absent at supper. An investigation soon made by the coroner showed the poison was in canned whortleberries, of which all ate. Suspicion that was first attached to the servant has disappeared.
